POULTRY

PROFITABLE AS EGG LAYER

Brown Leghorn Hen, Six Years Old,
Stops Laying Just Long Enough to Hatch Out Brood.

As to the age limit of profitable egg production there are many exceptions to this rule. Some hens are never profitable egg producers, while others may be profitable for years. I have a three-fourths grade Brown Leghorn that is nearly six years old and she has not stopped laying since early last spring long enough to hatch a brood of chickens, says a writer in an exchange. She got broody last April and was given eggs, but she sat but a few days until she quit her nest and was laying again in a short time. She has been almost a continual layer up to this date, and is still laying. Much of the time she laid an egg every day.

The regular profit of $1 per fowl seems to satisfy the average poultryman. This is wrong, for no one should be satisfied in any line of work.

but constantly striving for better results and larger profits. Two and three dollars per fowl is a possible profit and is being attained by some men in the poultry business today.

The secret does not lie in the fowl or the variety, but in the human brain. Let us all study more carefully the rules and principles that govern poultry culture. Let us strive to increase the profit in our flocks, and thus each year set up a new standard for the succeeding year. By thought, perseverance and persistence great things can be accomplished with poultry.

INJURIOUS HABITS OF HENS

Pulling and Eating of Each Other's Feathers May Be Cured by Allowing Them Free Range.

Sometimes a flock of hens acquire the habit of pulling and eating each other's feathers. In some cases they are so bad that the flesh of the fowls become torn and sore, and the whole flock is nearly naked.

When they first show the signs of this vice measures should promptly be taken to cure them.

The trouble is caused by too closely confining the fowls and allowing them to be idle. Where possible they should be turned on the range where the fascination of chasing bugs and eating the green stuff will make them forget the bad habit.

When they cannot be turned out they should be made to scratch for their grain in deep litter. Bundles of wheat or oats, or sunflower heads may be hung up just high enough that they will have to work to get the seeds. Give them some turnips or mangle beets or cabbage heads to work at—anything to keep them in exercise and busy. Feed them plenty of green food, meat, meal, beef scraps and green cut bone.

Rub carbolated vaseline on the plucked fowls where the feathers have been pulled out.

POULTRY NOTES

Cleanliness is more important than medicine for poultry.

Plenty of buttermilk and clabber saves buying meat scraps.

Sanitation is the great chick remedy. In other words, prevention.

Patient attention to the little things is what makes success with poultry.

Cull all your young chickens, keeping those nearest to the standard of perfection.

Late hatched chickens need as much care as early ones; don't think they can rustle a living.

The goose is a grazing bird, while the duck thrives with a limited amount of green food.

For table it pays to hatch chicks from February to November, but the number should be limited.

If duck eggs are set under the hens from this time on, it will be best to make the nest on the ground.

Remember that fowls that "look alike" will attract better attention and sell better than the hit and miss kind.

About the best remedy for scaly legs, which is the work of parasites, is an application of melted lard and sulphur once a week.

Drinking troughs need frequent looking after in summer. Nothing like a filthy water or feed trough to breed disease in hot weather.

Feed less corn and other grain than you did during the winter. The birds feed largely on worms and insects while they are running on range.

AX-MARKED PETRIFIED TREE

Woodsman Makes a Very Interesting
Discovery on a Montana Butte.

Great Falls, Mont.—Proof that men inhabited this part of the world in prehistoric times and even then used axes and showed judgment in felling trees, has been developed by Colomon Abbott of Shelby, north of this city.

Not far from the Sullivan ranch and near the junction of Cut Bank creek and Two Medicine creek, there is a butte, probably 450 to 500 feet above the surrounding country and about seven miles in circumference. It has cut banks so steep at every point that they are impassable for cattle and horses, and at but one point is a fence needed to keep the animals on top of the butte.

The butte is absolutely devoid of timber, but at one time on the summit there grew a fine straight pine tree two feet in diameter and not short of 80 to 100 feet high. This is proven by the fact that the tree now lies full length on the ground, cut into two-foot lengths, the ax marks of the woodsman being plainly discernible in every part of the wood, which is now petrified.

To fell the tree uphill, as was done, it had to be chopped on the side toward which it was to fall almost entirely, and the petrified stump showed that this was done. Every one of the cuts, which hint of commercial purposes for the wood, gives indisputable evidence of the woodsman's ax.

Abbott is a pioneer, and is believed to have been the first white man to have climbed to the top of the butte.

INDIGESTION AND SIN TWINS

Dr. Oldfield, Vegetarian, Says That Much of Drunkenness is Due to Stomach Trouble.

London.—"A great deal of the drunkenness and sin of the world is due to indigestion, and, therefore, I have yet to meet a fruitarian who is a drunkard," said Dr. Josiah Oldfield, the famous vegetarian, in a lecture on "Diet and Dyspepsia," at the Hall of the Order of the Golden Age, Brompton-road.

In the olden days if the judge were in a bad temper owing to the state of his digestion the poor prisoner was hanged. Many battles had been lost owing to the bad digestion of the commander, he added, and the answer to the question whether life is worth living was "it depends on the liver."

A great many people took to drink continued the speaker, not because they wanted it, but owing to the condition of their stomach, which craved for something to drown its care. Indigestion was largely a nerve disease, and the nerves were often the cause of the trouble. The pain of indigestion was not a primary sign, and when that happened the trouble was well advanced and the patient in the way for gastric trouble.

Dr. Oldfield suggested a pint and a half as the inclusive amount of liquid to be taken during a day.

Segregate Stupid Children.

Chicago.—"The average stupid child recruits the criminal class when he is brought up among normal children," declared Dr. Henry H. Goddard of Vineland, N. J., addressing a convention of alienists here. "They should be segregated and receive a special education," said he.

Women Wear Trousers.

Lake Hopalong, N. J.—Women wearing khaki trousers is no uncommon sight in this town. Almost all the female campers here wear the male garb when shopping.

First Use of Tobacco.

The cigar has a long history. Tobacco may have been used in cigar form before it was burned in pipes, sniffed as snuff or taken as a "quid," but on this point there is no proof. Two of the sailors under Columbus on the first voyage reported that they had seen natives of the new-found world with firebrands in their mouths and with smoke issuing from their lips.

Ceylon Bullock Carts Passing.

Owing to heavy mortality among the bullocks used for transporting plantation products in Ceylon, due to rinderpest and foot-and-mouth disease, a revolution seems to be impending in this island, in the substitution of motor lorries for the picturesque but slow and cumbersome bullock carts which for centuries have been the chief means of conveying goods in Ceylon.
